

Sarah Wheeler

Sarah joined Coalescence in November 2009, impressed that a whole company could be devoted to making people's working lives more productive as well as personally fulfilling. She is the one on the end of the phone when you call the Coalescence office and in charge of booking everyone's meetings and appointments and making documents look good.

Experience

Sarah moved to Bath from London in 2006 to study Creative Writing at Bath Spa University. She then decided she loved the little city too much to go anywhere else and has stayed on working in various admin and PA roles. Her previous positions have included Senior Admissions Assistant at the University of Bath, Desk-Top Publishing Designer at Nash Partnership, and Team Support Officer for the Regeneration and Development division of B&NES Council.

Educational Qualifications

- BA (single honours) Creative Studies in English
- A-Levels in Psychology, Sociology, English Lang/Lit and Performing Arts
- Initial Certificate in Counselling Skills
- C.L.A.I.T qualification

Personal Preferences

- Singing with a live band most weekends
- Reading, writing and performing poetry
- Puzzler, Psychologies and Cosmo magazines
- Nairn's Mini Oatcakes
- Getting things done
- ISFJ